

Join the IHE Student Advisory Board

Independent Higher Education (IHE) is seeking students to join our Student Advisory Board (SAB).

IHE is the UK membership organisation and national representative body for independent providers of higher education, professional training and pathways. IHE works to promote, support and enhance the colleges, schools, universities, institutes and academies it represents, many of whom are specialists in what they do. Like the representative bodies for traditional universities and colleges, IHE gathers the views of our members and their students, and puts them forward to government, regulators (like the Office for Students) and other stakeholders.

We are now inviting students to join our Student Advisory Board (SAB) to help us to create a compelling and strong national student voice for independent providers of HE.

What are we looking for?

SAB members will be invited to join four online meetings a year. There may also be occasional ad hoc requests to participate in other IHE activities where we need the student voice to help with responses to consultations or to inform policy developments. In return, students will receive support and guidance as part of a bespoke IHE SAB development package, delivered by student representation experts Coole Insight.

To be eligible for the SAB, students should be registered on a programme of study at an IHE member institution.

How to apply

Please email apply@ihe.ac.uk with:

- Your name, and the name of the independent provider where you are studying
- A couple of sentences outlining why you are interested in joining the SAB
